

Indigenous Development Program

The 7 Generations Development program will give indigenous community members across Treaty territories an opportunity for ownership from affordable rentals.

This project involves the construction of new affordable rental and rent-to-own housing units off-reserve for members of First Nation, Metis and Inuit communities. The project will create meaningful jobs, update existing infrastructure and contribute back to the local economy.

This project has been in the making for several years as off-reserve housing has been a major topic discussion for indigenous people across Canada. The team has been collaborating with multiple First Nations, government advisors and industry consultants and community members who have shown strong support for this project. This mission is to increase the supply of affordable housing and ownership opportunities for Indigenous people living off-reserve.

The management board will be made up of qualified indigenous community members from treaty territories. This operations group is made up of industry professionals who will manage and oversee the development and future operations of this worthwhile program.

As we continue to pursue our strongly held goal of rent-to-ownership for off-reserve housing, we are preparing to submit an additional funding request to Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), Provincial Government, Municipalities and Indigenous Communities to support the development and construction phase of this program. The planning phase is already in progress and we anticipate the creation of housing units in municipalities across Canada. In the future 7 Generations plans on expanding the program to other Canadian and US regions with high density indigenous populations.

We are looking to partner with all levels of industry, government and finance to improve the prospects of rental to home ownership opportunities for indigenous people. Any expressions of interest from your team for this initiative would be greatly appreciated and go a long way to support indigenous home ownership.

For more information please contact:

info@7generation.ca

